Additional Information

The TOEIC Test is the Test of English for International Communication. The TOEIC Test lasts approximately two-and-a-half hours. There are 200 questions.

- All questions are multiple-choice.
- There are two sections, listening and reading.
- There are 100 listening comprehension questions (45 minutes) and 100 reading comprehension questions (75 minutes).
- Results are a score between 10 and 990. The results are made up of a score out of 495 for reading and a score out of 495 for listening.
- Results arrive approximately one week after the test. These can be picked up from the University of Otago Language Centre in person. Alternatively, results will be sent out by post.
- TOEIC produces a table which matches these scores to seven levels of English proficiency. These levels are:

905-990 International Proficiency
785-900 Working Proficiency Plus
604-780 Limited Working Proficiency
405-600 Elementary Proficiency Plus
255-400 Elementary Proficiency
185-250 Memorised Proficiency

Exam Preparation

Students should report to the University of Otago Language Centre at the assigned time on the day of the exam and should bring the following:
