SERVICE USERS ACADEMIA MINI SYMPOSIUM

We know many of you have missed the inspiration and fellowship you get from the service user academia symposium that, prior to Covid, had been run annually for nine years. Hence, we have decided to run a virtual mini-symposium this November.

We welcome anyone involved with, interested in, or aspiring to create co-produced and/or service user-led teaching and research initiatives in mental health and addiction. Please note that whilst you will be asked to register to attend, the organising committee has decided to make this a free event.
