

Master of International Studies 2024

Students and Topics / Research Questions

Jonah Broughton

Memories of Colonialism and Foreign Policy: The Republic of Ireland's Stance Toward Israel-Palestine (2012-2024)

Jack Buchan

The Digital Leviathan: Central Bank Digital Currencies and Monetary Sovereignty in the Digital Era

Jason Fought

Bounded Rational Choice Theory and the Nepalese Government's Preparation for and Response to the 2015 Gorkha Earthquake

Tane Tlahui Gonzalez Boddy

Effectiveness of International Law in Advancing Indigenous Rights: A case study of New Zealand

Daren Harvey

Social Constructivism, National Identity and the Russian Invasion of Ukraine

Myah Jones

India's Neutrality on Russia's Invasion of Ukraine: A Neoclassical Realist Perspective

Jack Smith

Does Liberal Institutionalism Explain New Zealand's Signing of the Artemis Accords?

Tuân Mạnh Ngô

Vietnam's Semiconductor Ambition: Industrial Policy and Economic Development Amid US-China Technological Competition

Liam Patrick White

No Better Enemy, No Worse Friend: The Achievements, Costs and Legacy of the Trump Administration's Foreign Policy Toward Northeast Asian Allies

Ben Young

Charting a Course for New Zealand's Maritime Security