Inter-Regional Air Quality Assessment - Bridging the Gap between Regional and Kerbside PM Pollution

Dr Ulrich Uhrner

This seminar covers a holistic approach to measuring air pollution, from base data to air quality and health assessment. Concentration levels of air pollutants were assessed for several scenarios evaluated within the EU project “PMinter”, which aimed to improve air quality.

Ulrich Uhrner is a visiting atmosphere scientist and air pollution modeller at the University of Otago Wellington. He is a senior scientist in the Traffic and Environment Department, Institute of Internal Combustion Engines and Thermodynamics, Graz University of Technology, Austria.
