

Te Manahua New Zealand Universities Women in Leadership Programme

Guidance for Applicants

Maximum application length 500 words

Due Date Completed forms in Word format, along with your Pro-Vice- Chancellor's endorsement (by signature or email) and your CV, should be emailed to dvc.academic@otago.ac.nz by Friday 30 January 2026.

Application

The Te Manahua NZUWiL application has three parts to be completed by the applicant:

Benefits of participation for you and the University

Provide details of the specific benefits that participation in this programme will contribute to you personally, and the University.

Responsibilities:

Provide a brief description of your past and current responsibilities with reference to experience or involvement in management and leadership, including specific examples. Consider the criteria listed in the application as you prepare your response.

Additional Comments

In this section (or in your CV) please tell us if you have attended the University's Women in Leadership at Otago (WiLO) Programme, Academic Leadership Development Programme (ALDP) or other leadership programmes.

You may find it helpful to reflect on Te Manahua NZUWiL's Programme Objectives and Benefits as you complete your application form.

Further information: refer to the Te Manahua New Zealand Universities Women in Leadership Programme webpage: NZUWiL