

PUBLIC LECTURE SERIES

Great Scots

To mark the 150th anniversary of the founding of the University of Otago, the Centre for Irish and Scottish Studies is sponsoring a series of public lectures on 'Great Scots: Otago Men and Women Who Shaped New Zealand.' In each lecture, a current University of Otago academic will assess the legacy of an eminent Scottish figure from the University's past whose life and work had an impact on society.

Lectures will take place on the first Sunday of each month from February through November at 2pm in the Auditorium of Toitū Otago Settlers Museum, Dunedin.

Entry is free. All are Welcome.

2019 Programme

3 February

Professor Murray Rae on Thomas Burns

3 March

Professor Liam McIlvanney on D. M. Stuart

7 April

Professor Alex Miller on Duncan MacGregor

5 May

Professor Lyall Hanton on James Gow Black

2 June

Associate Professor Colin Gavaghan on John William Salmond

7 July

Professor Tom Brooking on Robert Stout

4 August

Professor Janine Hayward on Leah Dalrymple

1 September

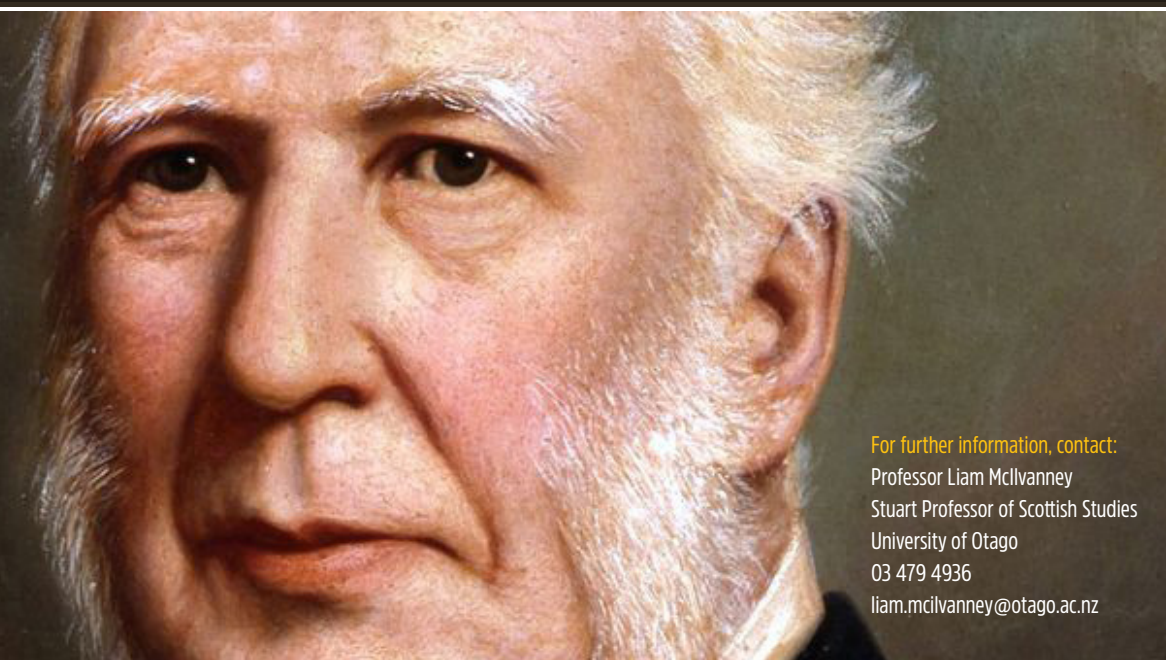

Dr Ali Clarke on Agnes Blackie

6 October

Dr Sharon Leitch on Margaret Cruickshank

3 November

Professor Barbara Brookes on Isabel Fraser

For further information, contact:

Professor Liam McIlvanney
Stuart Professor of Scottish Studies
University of Otago
03 479 4936
liam.mcilvanney@otago.ac.nz

HUM-LM0001-0219

Centre for Irish
and Scottish Studies

