

The University of Otago Pacific-related Research Expertise List as of 7 November 2016

Title	First Name	Surname	Position	Unit or discipline	Email Address	Phone number	Campus	Area of Expertise and Research Interests
Associate Professor	Gillian	Abel	Head of Department	Department of Population Health	gillian.abel@otago.ac.nz	64 3 364 3619	Christchurch	Gillian is expert in mixed methods research using community-based participatory approaches. Her research focuses on vulnerable populations such as sex workers, vulnerable youth and Pacific people, vulnerable populations such as sex workers, vulnerable youth and Pacific people.
Professor	Rex	Ahdar	Academic Teaching Staff	Faculty of Law	rex.ahdar@otago.ac.nz	64 3 479 8842	Dunedin	Competition Law and Policy, Church-State Relations, Religious Freedom, Contract Law, Sports Law.
Reverend Dr	Lynne	Baab	Senior Lecturer	Department of Theology & Religion	lynne.baab@otago.ac.nz	64 3 479 5358	Dunedin	Multi-ethnic congregations in New Zealand.
Professor	David	Baxter	Director - Ageing Well	School of Physiotherapy, Division of Health Sciences	david.baxter@otago.ac.nz	64 3 479 7411	Dunedin	RCTs; Surveys; Qualitative Research; Men's Health; Ageing Well; Physical Activity and Health; Medical Devices.
Professor	Judy	Bennett	Professor	Department of History & Art History	judy.bennett@otago.ac.nz	64 3 479 8607	Dunedin	Pacific Islands; Environmental History; World War Two in Pacific; History of Coconuts as a commodity; Pacific forest history.
Dr	Katharina	Blattner	Pacific Nation Liaison	Division of Health Sciences	kati.blattner@hokiangahealth.org.nz		Hokianga	Rural and Remote Health , Pacific Island health workforce.
Associate Professor	Jenny	Bryant-Tokalau	Academic Teaching Staff	Te Tumu: School of Maori, Pacific and Indigenous Studies	jenny.bryant-tokalau@otago.ac.nz	64 3 479 3974	Dunedin	Fiji, land, poverty, urbanisation, environmental change, urban environmental degradation in the Pacific; impacts of natural disasters on Pacific urban dwellers.
Associate Professor	Hallie	Buckley	Academic Staff	Department of Anatomy	hallie.buckley@otago.ac.nz	64 3 479 5775	Dunedin	Research of diet, health and disease in prehistoric Pacific peoples, Lapita, Forensic anthropology, koiwi tangata.
Dr	Lyn	Carter	Academic Teaching Staff	Te Tumu School of Māori, Pacific, and Indigenous Studies	lynette.carter@otago.ac.nz	64 3 479 3049	Dunedin	Cultural landscapes and identity politics; social impact from climate change in the Pacific (Including New Zealand) on nationhood and identity.
Dr	Jennifer	Cattermole	Academic Staff	Department of Music	jennifer.cattermole@otago.ac.nz	64 3 479 4025	Dunedin	Pacific Island musics (esp. in Fiji and Aotearoa/NZ) and: 1. the expression and transformation of place and identity, 2. government interventions in music industries, 3. music's uses in promoting health and wellbeing, and 4. music teaching and learning.
Professor	Kevin	Clements	Director	National Centre for Peace and Conflict Studies	kevin.clements@otago.ac.nz	64 3 479 9468	Dunedin	Political Hybridity, Vanuatu, Solomon Islands, Timor Leste, Pacific Island Forum (PIF), Bitekawa and development and peacebuilding, Conflict Transformation.
Associate Professor	Gerry	Closs	Head of Department	Department of Zoology	gerry.closs@otago.ac.nz	64 3 479 7972	Dunedin	The life history and migration of freshwater fishes, particularly the patterns of freshwater fish species distribution and life history throughout the Indo-Pacific.
Associate Professor	Brian	Cox	Research Associate Professor & Director of the Hugh Adam Cancer Epidemiology Unit	Preventive & Social Medicine, Dunedin School of Medicine	brian.cox@otago.ac.nz	64 3 479 7213	Dunedin	Cancer Causes, Control and Screening in Pacific Island Populations.
Ms	Nandika	Currey	Associate Dean Pacific	Social Psychiatry & Population Mental Health Research Unit, University of Otago	nandika.currey@otago.ac.nz	64 4 806 1498	Wellington	Pacific mental health; Health services research; Qualitative research; Suicide prevention; Culture and mental health.

Title	First Name	Surname	Position	Unit or discipline	Email Address	Phone number	Campus	Area of Expertise and Research Interests
Associate Professor	Sarah	Derrett	Research Associate Professor	Preventive & Social Medicine, Dunedin School of Medicine	sarah.derrett@otago.ac.nz	64 3 479 7221	Dunedin	Pacific people and: - Outcomes following injury - End stage kidney disease and dialysis - Health-related quality of life person-reported outcomes - Disability.
Dr	Alumita	Durutalo	Academic Teaching Staff	Te Tumu: School of Maori, Pacific and Indigenous Studies	alumita.durutalo@otago.ac.nz	64 3 479 8698	Dunedin	Political parties, elections and democratization in the Pacific Islands states; indigenous leadership and development in the Pacific Islands; Indigenous languages, culture and identity amongst Pacific Islands migrants in the First World.
Dr	Richard	Egan	Senior Lecturer in Health Promotion	Cancer Society Social & Behavioural Research Unit, Preventive & Social Medicine	richard.egan@otago.ac.nz	64 3 479 7206	Dunedin	Spirituality in health care, particularly hospice/palliative care, renal care, aged care etc; and health promotion.
Dr	Allamanda	Faatoese	Postdoctoral Research Fellow	Christchurch Heart Institute	allamanda.faatoese@otago.ac.nz	64 4 364 1209	Christchurch	Cardiovascular risk profiles among Maori and Pacific communities in New Zealand. Emerging circulating biomarkers and genetic variants associated with cardiovascular disease.
Professor	David	Fielding	Academic Teaching Staff	Department of Economics	david.fielding@otago.ac.nz	64 3 479 8653	Dunedin	International aid and economic development.
Dr	Anne	Ford	Lecturer	Department of Anthropology & Archaeology	anne.ford@otago.ac.nz	64 3 471 6148	Dunedin	Archaeology, Papua New Guinea, Modern human migrations in the Pleistocene, Lapita colonisation, material culture, trade and exchange, sourcing studies, lithics, ceramics.
Professor	Robin	Gauld	Head of Department & Director, Centre for Health Systems	Preventive and Social Medicine	robin.gauld@otago.ac.nz	64 3 479 8632	Dunedin	New Zealand Health Policy; Comparative health policy (especially in Asia-Pacific); Health Systems and Health Workforce.
Dr	David	Goodwin	Senior Lecturer & Researcher	National School of Surveying	david.goodwin@otago.ac.nz	64 3 479 6540	Dunedin	Effects of precession on stars used for Polynesian navigation; Archeoastronomy.
Dr	Ben	Gray	Senior Lecturer	Primary Health Care and General Practice	ben.gray@otago.ac.nz	64 4 918 5166	Wellington	Use of interpreters and health navigation services by Pacific people.
Dr	Sian	Halcrow	Senior Lecturer	Department of Anatomy	sian.halcrow@otago.ac.nz	64 3 479 5265	Dunedin	Dr Halcrow studies the human remains of past people to address anthropological questions of human biological adaptation and social and environmental change. Although Sian's work is mostly focused in the regions of Southeast Asia and South America, she is the PI (and co-director with Associate Professor Hallie Buckley) of the the University of Otago Research Theme, Asia-Pacific Biocultural Health: Past and Present. This theme has been established to foster multi-disciplinary research synergies across the University and encourage indigenous research development in this area of Asia and Pacific health.
Mr	Chris	Higgs	Professional Practice Fellow	School of Physiotherapy, Division of Health Sciences	chris.higgs@otago.ac.nz	64 3 471 6943	Dunedin	Community-based rehabilitation programmes for people with diabetes / prediabetes.
Professor	Philip	Hill	Infectious Disease Researcher & Co-Director, Centre for International Health	Dunedin School of Medicine, Centre for International Health	philip.hill@otago.ac.nz	64 3 479 9462	Dunedin	Studies of Mycobacterium tuberculosis infection and disease, Streptococcus pneumoniae carriage, disease and vaccination. Using epidemiological tools to answer fundamental public health questions in developing countries, including the relationship of the health system to under-five mortality.

Title	First Name	Surname	Position	Unit or discipline	Email Address	Phone number	Campus	Area of Expertise and Research Interests
Dr	Iati	Iati	Senior Lecturer	Department of Politics	iati.iati@otago.ac.nz	64 3 479 8665	Dunedin	Politics in the Pacific region, in particular governance and development, geopolitics, civil society-state relations, land reform, and New Zealand foreign policy. Dr Iati was one of the co-directors for the 48th and 50th University of Otago Foreign Policy Schools.
Dr	Marie	Inder	Pacific Islands Student Support/Teaching Fellow	Division of Sciences & Health Sciences	marie.inders@otago.ac.nz	64 3 479 9267	Dunedin	General Microbiology, Virology, Molecular Biology, Science communication, Tertiary teaching and tutoring.
Dr	Tristram	Ingham	Senior Research Fellow	Department of Medicine, UOW	tristram.ingham@otago.ac.nz	64 4 918 6842	Wellington	Respiratory Epidemiology; Health Inequalities.
Dr	Ella	Iosua	Research Fellow	Department of Preventive & Social Medicine	ella.iosua@otago.ac.nz	64 3 479 5229	Dunedin	Biostatistics and Public Health.
Dr	Susan	Jack	Senior Research Fellow	Dunedin School of Medicine, Centre for International Health. Preventive & Social Medicine.	susan.jack@otago.ac.nz	64 3 479 9463	Dunedin	Policy, planning, implementation and evaluation of maternal, newborn and child health and nutrition programmes. Providing technical advice, capacity building and training for health staff in low and middle income countries. Experience in the Solomon Islands, Vanuatu, Cambodia and Vietnam.
Associate Professor	Gillian	Johnson	Deputy Dean of the School of Physiotherapy	School of Physiotherapy, Division of Health Sciences	gill.johnson@otago.ac.nz	64 3 479 5424	Dunedin	Physiotherapy draping preferences including cultural perspectives. Recently conducted study whereby interviewed Samoan and Tongan university students.
Dr	Viktoria	Kahui	Academic Teaching Staff	Department of Economics	viktoria.kahui@otago.ac.nz	64 3 479 5278	Dunedin	Deep water fisheries; natural resource economics; ecosystem based management; catch shares.
Dr	Emily	Keddell	Senior Lecturer in Social Work	Department of Sociology, Gender & Social Work	emily.keddell@otago.ac.nz	64 3 479 5867	Dunedin	The construction of multiple ethnic identities.
Dr	Michael	Knapp	Senior Lecturer in Biological Anthropology	Department of Anatomy	michael.knapp@otago.ac.nz	64 3 479 5169	Dunedin	Reconstructing the settlement of the Pacific.
Dr	Jesse	Kokaua	Research Fellow	Pacific Development & Pacific Islands Research and Student Support Unit (PIRSSU)	jesse.kokaua@otago.ac.nz	64 3 479 8493	Dunedin	Statistics, applied Bayesian models; mental health and the Pacific community; prevalence of and treatment for mental disorders among Cook Islanders in New Zealand; factors that contribute to increased academic achievement by Pacific students in higher education.
Dr	Zabeen	Lateef	Postdoctoral Fellow	Department of Microbiology & Immunology	zabeen.lateef@otago.ac.nz	64 3 479 7307	Dunedin	Applied and molecular immunology, bacterial and viral genetics, vaccines - immunology and technology, viral pathogenesis and molecular virology. Also, involved in various outreach programs, such as Hands on Science, International Science Festival, and customized science workshops to suit Primary and Intermediate school students.
Associate Professor	Jacqui	Leckie	Academic Teaching Staff	Department of Anthropology and Archaeology	jacqui.leckie@otago.ac.nz	64 3 479 8760	Dunedin	Pacific studies; Pacific studies - history, anthropology, gender; Fiji - gender, ethnicity, mental health, labour and work; Immigration and ethnicity in New Zealand.
Dr	Christiane	Leurquin	Teaching Fellow	Department of Languages & Culture	christiane.leurquin@otago.ac.nz	03 479 9097	Dunedin	Literature and history of the French speaking Pacific islands, with a particular interest in the literature of New Caledonia.

Title	First Name	Surname	Position	Unit or discipline	Email Address	Phone number	Campus	Area of Expertise and Research Interests
Dr	Kiki	Maoate	Associate Dean Pacific, Division of Health Sciences, UoO Christchurch	Paediatric Surgery	kiki@healthspecialists.co.nz	64 212 269 534	Christchurch	Governance, Community development, Workforce development, Global Health initiatives, Health leadership.
Dr	Damien	Mather	Marketing Senior Lecturer	Department of Marketing	damien.mather@otago.ac.nz	64 3 479 7694	Dunedin	Examining three major fields of enquiry: strategy, policy and branding in international business; pricing and distribution; and business communications. His areas of expertise include advanced quantitative research methods and techniques, customer analytics and market research. Pacific business engagement and the drive to develop sustainable products whilst maximising their success.
Professor	Lisa	Matisoo-Smith	Professor of Biological Anthropology	Department of Anatomy	lisa.matisoo-smith@otago.ac.nz	64 3 479 6827	Dunedin	Pacific prehistory, Ancient DNA; Human genetic/biological diversity; Evolution; New Zealand prehistory; Pacific settlement history; Mitochondrial DNA (mtDNA); Human evolution.
Dr	Andrea	McDonald	Research Fellow	Department of Public Health	andrea.mcdonald@otago.ac.nz	64 4 806 1616	Wellington	The impact of household crowding on infectious disease incidence and prevalence; epidemiology and public health, particularly in research that promotes equity and health improvement and is responsive to stakeholder needs.
Professor	Tony	Merriman	Academic Teaching Staff	Department of Biochemistry	tony.merriman@otago.ac.nz	64 3 479 5798	Dunedin	Professor Merriman takes a genetic approach to understanding the causes of gout and other metabolic disease in Pacific people based in New Zealand. He has collaborations with the Pacific Trust Otago and the Pukapuka Community Group (Mangere).
Dr	Rob	Middag	Lecturer Chemical Oceanography	Department of Chemistry, NIWA/UoO Research Centre for Oceanography	rob.middag@otago.ac.nz	64 3 479 7906	Dunedin	Working in the Pacific. Marine Chemistry / Chemical Oceanography; Biogeochemical cycling of trace metals in the marine environment.
Professor	Richard	Morgan	Academic Teaching Staff	Department of Geography	rkm@geography.otago.ac.nz	64 3 479 8782	Dunedin	Environmental management in the Pacific; environmental impact assessment; social, health, and cultural impact assessment; environmental concerns; small island developing states (SIDS); capacity building; soil; ecosystems; human impacts.
Professor	Pauline	Norris	Associate Dean (Postgraduate Professional Programmes)	School of Pharmacy	pauline.norris@otago.ac.nz	64 3 479 7359	Dunedin	Access to and use of medicines by Pacific people in New Zealand and the Pacific.
Professor	Jeremy	Piggott	Research Fellow	Department of Zoology	jeremy.piggott@otago.ac.nz	64 3 479 5855	Dunedin	Lead Author (Chapter 3: Freshwater), Regional Assessment of Biodiversity and Ecosystem Services for Asia and the Pacific, Intergovernmental Platform on Biodiversity and Ecosystem Services (IPBES; http://www.ipbes.net).
Dr	Sandhya	Ramrakha	Research Manager – Dunedin Multidisciplinary Health & Development Research Unit, Department of Psychology	Dunedin Multidisciplinary Health and Development Study, Department of Psychology	sandhya.ramrakha@dmhdru.otago.ac.nz	64 3 479 5019	Dunedin	Examining the links between mental and sexual health, with specific reference to risky sexual behaviour. Examining the mental health and psychosocial correlates and consequences of skin conditions.

Title	First Name	Surname	Position	Unit or discipline	Email Address	Phone number	Campus	Area of Expertise and Research Interests
Dr	Greg	Rawlings	Senior Lecturer in Social Anthropology	Department of Anthropology & Archaeology	greg.rawlings@otago.ac.nz	64 3 479 4905	Dunedin	Globalisation, transnationalism, citizenship; political, legal and economic anthropology; history & anthropology; 'race', nationality and human rights; regulation, money laundering, offshore finance centres & tax havens, governance, corruption, accountability.
Professor	Michael	Reilly	Academic Teaching Staff	Te Tumu: School of Maori, Pacific and Indigenous Studies	michael.reilly@otago.ac.nz	64 3 479 8676	Dunedin	Pacific history and traditions; Māngai history; Traditional history in Eastern Polynesia (Cook Islands, Society Islands, Hawaiian Islands).
Dr	Rose	Richards Hessel	Associate Dean (Pacific), Dunedin School of Medicine and Co-Director / Research Fellow, Cancer Society Social and Behavioural Research Unit	Preventive & Social Medicine, Cancer Society Social and Behavioural Research Unit, Dunedin School of Medicine, Health Sciences	rose.richards@otago.ac.nz	64 3 479 7177 & 64 3 470 3482	Dunedin	Cancer awareness in Aotearoa New Zealand, Pacific health, physical activity, and health equity.
Dr	Mohammed	Rizwan	Research Fellow	Department of Anatomy & Department of Physiology	mohammed.rizwan@otago.ac.nz	64 3 470 3440	Dunedin	Neuroendocrine regulation of body weight and glucose homeostasis; investigating mechanisms that causes leptin resistance, which is a hallmark of obesity, in response to high fat diet; understanding the specific neuronal pathways involved in regulating bodyweight and glucose homeostasis.
Associate Professor	Bruce	Robertson	Senior Lecturer	Department of Zoology	bruce.robertson@otago.ac.nz	64 3 479 4110	Dunedin	The genetics of bird speciation and colonisation of Pacific Islands.
Dr	Michelle	Schaaf	Academic Teaching Staff	Te Tumu: School of Maori, Pacific and Indigenous Studies	michelle.schaaf@otago.ac.nz	64 3 479 8805	Dunedin	Diaspora; Identity; Pacific; Netball; Gender; Body; Culture; Physical activity; Education; Pacific well-being.
Dr	Daryl	Schwenke	Senior Lecturer	Department of Physiology, Otago School of Medical Sciences	daryl.schwenke@otago.ac.nz	64 3 479 7330	Dunedin	a) Sympathetic excitation following acute myocardial infarction: i) Central modulation of sympathetic nerve activity, ii) Therapeutic effects of ghrelin in acute heart failure. b) Regulation of the pulmonary vasculature, i) Endothelial control of the pulmonary vasculature, ii) Sympathetic modulation, iii) Pathological changes in the pathogenesis of pulmonary hypertension, iv) Pulmonary vascular dysfunction in obesity.
Dr	Margot	Skinner	Senior Lecturer	School of Physiotherapy	margot.skinner@otago.ac.nz	64 3 479 7466	Dunedin	Physiotherapy in the global market and WCPT; Health profession ethics and registration; Health professional education in Asia Western Pacific region.
Faumuina Associate Professor	Faafetai	Sopoaga	Senior Lecturer, Pacific Health and Associate Dean (Pacific), Dunedin School of Medicine	Department of Preventive & Social Medicine, Division of Health Sciences	tai.sopoaga@otago.ac.nz	64 3 479 7088	Dunedin	Pacific Health; Public Health; Pacific region issues; Pacific workforce development; Pacific students and Pacific communities.
Professor	Hamish	Spencer	Academic Teaching Staff & Director of the Allan Wilson Centre	Department of Zoology	h.spencer@otago.ac.nz	64 3 479 7981	Dunedin	Phylogeography of Molluscs especially in NZ, Australia and the southern Pacific Ocean.
Dr	Kate	Stevens	Postdoctoral Fellow	Department of History & Art History	kate.stevens@otago.ac.nz	64 3 479 5779	Dunedin	Pacific history, colonial history, legal history, gender history, Fiji, Vanuatu, New Caledonia, French Polynesia.

Title	First Name	Surname	Position	Unit or discipline	Email Address	Phone number	Campus	Area of Expertise and Research Interests
Associate Professor	Claudine	Stirling	Isotope Geochemistry, Director, Community Trust of Otago Centre for Trace Element Analysis	Department of Chemistry	cstirling@chemistry.otago.ac.nz	64 3 479 7932	Dunedin	Working in the Pacific. Isotopic and concentration analysis of trace metals in past and present marine and terrestrial environments with applications in (paleo)oceanography and (paleo)climatology. Pacific-focussed research projects: In the Pacific, this includes an investigation of the role of trace metals in the ocean's biological pump (which sequesters carbon dioxide from the atmosphere to the deep oceans), and is closely linked to global climate change. Another Marsden-funded study looks at the progression of anoxia in the past Pacific Ocean during warm, 'super greenhouse' climates that occurred 50-100 million years ago, which will be used to inform and constrain future climate change scenarios. I have also assisted in studies of Pacific human migration patterns through the expertise I can provide in chemical tracing methods, such as Sr isotopic analysis.
Dr	Maria	Stubbe	Academic Teaching Staff	Primary Health Care & General Practice	maria.stubbe@otago.ac.nz	64 4 806 1838	Wellington	Communication in health care; Cross-cultural communication; Health navigation and interpreting.
Professor	Glenn	Summerhayes	Academic Teaching Staff	Department of Anthropology and Archaeology	glenn.summerhayes@otago.ac.nz	64 3 479 8399	Dunedin	Archaeology of the western Pacific, in particular Papua New Guinea; Archaeology of East and Southeast Asia.
Dr	Mele	Taumoepeau	Senior Lecturer	Department of Psychology	mele@psy.otago.ac.nz	64 3 479 4029	Dunedin	Preschoolers' socio-emotional development; The role of parent-child conversations about mental states in children's social understanding; Cross-cultural differences in parent-child conversations about the mind and child language development.
Dr	Tasileta	Teevale	Director	Pacific Development	tasileta.teevale@otago.ac.nz	64 3 479 8604	Dunedin	Pacific youth health, obesity prevention, physical activity and public health in relation to Pacific Peoples in New Zealand.
Ms	Ala	Teu	Residential Assistant	Pacific Development	ala.teu@otago.ac.nz		Dunedin	Enablers and Barriers to Academic Success for First Year Pacific Students' at the University of Otago.
Dr	Reremoana	Theodore	Acting Co-Director	National Centre for Lifecourse Research, Department of Psychology	moana.theodore@otago.ac.nz	64 3 479 4171	Dunedin	Lifecourse Research; Higher Education; Child Development.
Dr	Tim	Thomas	Senior Lecturer	Department of Anthropology and Archaeology	tim.thomas@otago.ac.nz	64 3 479 5213	Dunedin	Solomon Islands; Archaeology and historical anthropology of Oceania; Material culture; Socio-cultural landscapes; Exchange; Cross-cultural contact; Colonisation; Human diversity.
Dr	Ramona	Tiatia	Postdoctoral Fellow	Public Health, University of Otago, Wellington	ramona.tiatia@otago.ac.nz	64 4 385 5999 xtn 4897	Wellington	Qualitative research in: Pacific health; Public health; Housing; Community development; Prisoner health; Home dialysis; Health inequalities; Advocacy and engagement. Crowding and the associated risks of rheumatic fever. Currently leading two social sector trials in Wellington. One involving the close collaboration of sectors to help families access heating to warm up their homes to improve & maintain wellness. The other investigating youth and whanau access to services. Ramona is working with colleagues of He Kainga Oranga/healthy Housing Research Programme to develop new software survey applications for housing research.

Title	First Name	Surname	Position	Unit or discipline	Email Address	Phone number	Campus	Area of Expertise and Research Interests
Dr	Patrick	Vakaoti	Senior Lecturer in Social Work	Department of Sociology, Gender & Social Work	patrick.vakaoti@otago.ac.nz	64 3 479 3074	Dunedin	Patrick is interested in sociological and community development work with young people. He works in Fiji and the Pacific region exploring youth issues like street-frequenting and participation. His other interests include child protection and indigenous community development. Patrick's work extends to consultancy research where he has worked with organisations like UNICEF Pacific, Pacific Leadership Programme (AusAID) and the Secretariat of the Pacific Community.
Associate Professor	Jacques	Van der Meer	Associate Dean (Academic & Research)	College of Education	jacques.vandermeer@otago.ac.nz	64 3 479 4288	Dunedin	Transition into University and the experience of first-year students; Student retention; Peer-learning; Equitable access and participation in higher education; Pedagogical/andragogical approaches to enhancing student engagement.
Professor	Richard	Walter	Head of Department	Department of Anthropology and Archaeology	richard.walter@otago.ac.nz	64 3 479 8754	Dunedin	Richard works in the field of Pacific archaeology, indigenous history and cultural heritage management. His research interests are in the prehistoric colonisation of the Pacific and in the development of complex societies of Melanesia and Polynesia. His main areas of research are the Solomon Islands, Cook Islands and New Zealand. In addition to his archaeological work, Richard works on community based cultural heritage and conservation programmes in New Zealand and the Solomon Islands.
Dr	Sara	Walton	Senior Lecturer in Business, Sustainability & the Natural Environment	Department of Management	sara.walton@otago.ac.nz	64 3 479 5108	Dunedin	Leading the Lighting Vanuatu project, funded by AusAID within the Vanuatu Governance for Growth (GfG) Program; Working with AusAid with renewable energy projects in the Pacific; Business sustainability; Completion of a project on social enterprise in the Pacific with Professor Brendon Gray.
Dr	Angela	Wanhalla	Academic Teaching Staff	Department of History & Art History	angela.wanhalla@otago.ac.nz	64 3 479 8462	Dunedin	The fate of children born of American servicemen and indigenous women in the South Pacific Command during World War II.
Associate Professor	Lisa	Warrington	Academic Teaching Staff	Theatre Studies, Department of Music	lisa.warrington@otago.ac.nz	64 3 479 8895	Dunedin	New Zealand and Pacific Island theatre.
Associate Professor	Erika	Wolf	Associate Professor, Programme in Art History	History and Art History	erika.wolf@otago.ac.nz	64 3 479 9012	Dunedin	Photography in the Pacific; Contemporary art in the Pacific.

Title	First Name	Surname	Position	Unit or discipline	Email Address	Phone number	Campus	Area of Expertise and Research Interests
-------	------------	---------	----------	--------------------	---------------	--------------	--------	--