If you do not see the relevant paper, contact your paper administrator and ask them to add you, in the appropriate role, using the Otago Corporate Application, “Blackboard Staff”. (This information flows through to Blackboard, and then Turnitin and will take up to a day to process).

Now you should see all Turnitin submission portals associated with that paper. Click on the “view” link in the “Actions” column, associated with the submission portal you wish to mark. (This may take a few seconds to load).

You should now see a list of submissions ready for marking. Click on the pen icon in the “Grade” column next to the submission you wish to grade. This will open a new window (you may need to give your browser permission to do this) and take you to the familiar “Feedback Studio” screen you normally see in Blackboard or Moodle when marking. You can move between student submissions using the navigation tools at the top of the screen.
