Adviser Communications Services

ROLE TITLE	Adviser Communications Services
SECTION/DIVISION:	Communications Services Division, Communications Advisory Services
REPORTS TO:	Manager Communications Advisory Services or Team Leader Divisional Communications or Team Leader Project Communications
DIRECT REPORTS (FTE):	Nil
INDIRECT REPORTS (FTE):	Nil
PRIMARY PURPOSE OF THE ROLE:	Provide corporate communications advisory services to a client portfolio (normally a Division or a suite of Divisions). Provide advice, analysis and support to portfolio leaders and managers and produce a range of corporate communications that strengthen the Division's image, and are aligned with Communications strategies. This role is part of the Communications Services Division, flexibly providing corporate communications related services, across the University. A client focused, service excellence delivery orientation is critical to success in this role.
ACCOUNTABILITIES:	Be the key communications point of contact for the Head(s) of the portfolio or business unit(s) and proactively partner with senior leaders and managers to fully understand and support business needs. Anticipate and be responsive to the needs and issues of the client portfolio and the direction of the University's and Communications Division's strategies. Liaise annually with Head(s) of the portfolio or business unit(s) and gather information to inform and feed in to the creation of an annual portfolio(s) corporate communications plan. Work closely with stakeholders and clients to ensure strategies and initiatives are appropriately considered, included and implemented through internal and external communications. Provide relevant, proactive, customised communications advice, expert opinion and information to clients, and liaise on proactive media stories (once cleared with the Media Engagement team). Produce a range of corporate communications for the client portfolio(s) including those specifically for: Inaugural Professorial lectures; VIP visits; sponsorship events; newsworthy conferences; and launches of significant programmes. Attend events and coordinate media and communications responses on behalf of the client(s) at those events, and in conjunction with the Marketing Events team and Media Engagement team. Work collaboratively with colleagues, the Media Engagement team, Marketing Advisory, and Events Services to ensure a seamless provision of services for clients. Ensure all communications outputs enhance the University's positive public profile and outstanding reputation; and minimise reputational risk.

Prepare well written, appropriately targeted material for clients on public issues or matters relevant to the client portfolio(s) strategic plans. Produce stories for University publications and other communications platforms.

Build strong productive working relationships with the Media Engagement team and portfolio related media contacts. Ensure liaison with the team when coordinating external media requirements. Draft news releases and pitch stories as appropriate.

Liaise, advocate and negotiate between clients and the rest of the Communications Services Division. Ensure clients receive communications services that are coordinated and meet their needs.

Collaborate with the Coordinator Social Media and work together to align the clients' social media communication needs with the University Social Media strategic approach. Work closely with Shared Services Client Services colleagues to appropriately update social media information.

Promote Communications Services Division client(s) feedback channels and regularly seek feedback from stakeholders to gauge satisfaction and service quality.

Monitor, maintain and update data and information sources and records. Keep up-to-date with Government policy, tertiary trends, and news and media in respect of the client portfolio(s) activity.

Support research staff with communications training to enable them to be confident and capable spokespersons. Liaise with the Media Engagement unit and arrange media training sessions for staff as required.

Network and develop, establish and maintain relationships with client's external communication stakeholders, such as Centres of Research Excellence, and National Science Challenges.

Build and maintain effective, positive working relationships with staff and work closely with Communications colleagues to best promote internal and external communications.

Seek new opportunities for enhancing the Communications Services Division advisory and operational activities provided to the client portfolio. Collaborate with peers and other stakeholders, analyse and resolve common issues, maximise efficiency, leverage collective knowledge and ensure a consistent level of service.

Be a trained member of the University's emergency communications team, delivering corporate communications in times of emergency response.

Perform Departmental Health & Safety Officer (DHSO), first aid and/or fire warden duties (if required).
