

BITC202

Animal Ethics

18 points | 2nd semester | Prerequisites: 126 points

We all make choices that affect the lives of (non-human) animals. Animal ethics allows us to recognise these choices, understand them, and make good decisions.

- Whether animals matter ethically, which animals, and why
- Animal welfare: what makes life good for an animal?
- The value of animal life, and what this means for killing
- Ways of thinking systematically about ethical treatment of animals
- The ethics of animal experimentation, farming and eating animals, companion and zoo animals, wild animals
- How animals should be represented in politics

Available for degrees in Science, Arts and Music, Commerce.

CONTACT

0800 80 80 98 or text 866
bioethics@otago.ac.nz
www.bioethics.otago.ac.nz

 TheBioethicsCentre
 @bioethicscentre

