

Application for the 2023 Teaching Excellence Awards:

University of Otago Awards for Excellence in Teaching and the National Te Whatu Kairangi Aotearoa Tertiary Educator Awards

Otago Awards

The University of Otago offers three Teaching Excellence Awards in the General Award category and one in the Kaupapa Māori Award category. Individuals or teams can apply. Successful applicants will receive a certificate and $5,000 to support their learning and teaching, to be spent within 12 months of receipt.

National Awards

All tertiary education organisations can nominate up to four teaching staff (no more than three of which may be in the General category). The national body awards up to 9 Ako Aotearoa National Tertiary Teaching Excellence Awards of $20,000 in the General or Kaupapa Māori category, and one of these awards can also be a Supporting Pacific Learners Endorsement (extra $5,000). One of the 9 awardees will receive the Prime Minister's Award with an additional $10,000. Winning a University of Otago award is a prerequisite for being a nominee for the National awards.

Further Information

Contact Associate Professor Ben Daniel or Professor Clinton Golding if more information is required or refer to the HEDC website regarding Tertiary Teaching Awards – the website also lists previous Otago and National Teaching Award winners.

Application Process

Applicants for the above awards should provide the information detailed below. Please note that applications which depart from this format will not be considered. Applications should be submitted electronically to dvc.academic@otago.ac.nz to arrive no later than 5:00 pm on Tuesday 7th February 2023. The application must be scanned into one pdf, including all documents and letters of support.

Applications will be accepted from individuals or teaching teams engaged in any tertiary teaching (distance, clinical, lecturing, tutoring, etc.). Please note that 'teachers' includes educators broadly. 'Teachers' includes any academic or professional staff who regularly support students with their learning and who may have other titles such as Teaching Fellow, Professional Practice Fellow, trainers, learning support staff, or mentors.

Please provide the following information (using Times, 12-point font)

1. Full name of the applicant
2. Preferred Title (if any) (e.g., Professor, Associate Professor, Dr, Mrs, Ms, Miss, Mr)
3. Position (Lecturer, Senior Lecturer, Professional Practice Fellow, Teaching Fellow etc.)
4. Department/Division
5. Contact phone number and email address

6. Number of years of teaching experience (Note: a minimum of four years of Tertiary teaching in NZ is required. For team applications, the team leader and at least one other member of the team must meet the 4 year minimum requirement)
  - a. Total years of teaching experience at any university
  - b. Total years of teaching experience at Otago
  - c. State if any experience has been part-time
7. Is the application for the General Award category, or the Kaupapa Māori category?
8. Is it a Team Teaching or individual application? (see note 15 below)
9. Is the application for an endorsement in any of the following?
  - a. Distance Teaching
  - b. Supporting Pacific Learners
  - c. Teaching with Technology
10. Indicate which of the following two options apply. (This can be “a” alone or “a+b”):
  - a. I wish to apply for an Otago Teaching Excellence Award
  - b. If selected, I am willing and available to apply if selected to be a nominee for the National Teaching Excellence Awards in 2022 or 2023. Refer to #19 for further details.

Applications must include in this order:

11. A citation that summarises your approach to learning and teaching. This should be no more than 25 words and written in the third person. If an application is successful, this citation will be read out at the award ceremony starting with the phrase “[your name] has been awarded an Otago Teaching Excellence Award for...”. Here are two examples of citations: 1) “...for ‘cultivating thinking’ by developing and implementing thought-provoking curricula and resources, which results in critical, creative and insightful students.” 2) “...for a student- centred, research-informed approach to professional education in the health sciences. Dr X enables students to be doctors.”
12. A statement of no more than the equivalent of 2,000* words (or audio/visual presentation, noting 100 words equals a 30 second clip), addressing the relevant criteria, as outlined below, which are aligned to those for the National Awards. *If a non-academic staff applicant, or a team application, use the equivalent of 3,000 words (see #14 and #15 below).

General Category

a. Context

Describe the context in which you teach or provide learning support. What do you teach, who are your students and what do they learn from you?

b. Approach

Explain what you have been doing and how it is it responsive to your students’ needs. How do your teaching strategies, goals, teaching methods and materials, assessments, student interactions, and curriculum or course/programme design exemplify ‘sustained excellence’ within the context described in Question a?

c. Impact and outcomes

Detail the impact your practice is having and how you know this. How do you know that your students have learned and can apply that learning effectively? What is the impact of your teaching on your students, their families, communities and employers? How do you know that the learning outcomes meet the students’ needs, and those of other stakeholders’ (e.g., whānau, employers, professional bodies, the wider community)?

d. Evaluation and feedback

Explain how you have improved or developed your teaching or your support of student learning. How has your teaching practice been informed by sources such as professional development, research, self-reflection, appropriately informed colleagues, peer review, students, former students, other relevant stakeholders, and the systematic collection of feedback and evaluations?

e. Leadership

Describe the key aspects of your leadership related to teaching and learning. How have you assisted others to improve or develop their teaching or their support of student learning? In what ways has your practice had a 'ripple effect' or other positive impacts on others (e.g., colleagues, your discipline, subject area or sector, relevant community(ies))?

When addressing the five criteria above, it is also useful if you could address one or more of the following focus areas:

- In what ways do you support diversity, inclusion and learning success for Māori learners; Pacific learners; neurodiverse learners; and/or learners with disabilities, or other priority learners?
- In what ways have you enhanced learning success in work-based learning?
- What significant innovations have you developed in learning, teaching, and curriculum that lead to improved learning and learning outcomes?
- What successful educational partnerships, connectedness and collaboration have you created or supported (for example, with external agencies, or with colleagues in other parts of the University)?
- In what ways have you provided for enhanced hauora and wellbeing in education?
- In what ways have you enabled successful transitions for learners between learning contexts (for example, from high school to university or from undergraduate to graduate)?

Kaupapa Māori Category

1. Ko te Whakamārama - Context

Describe the context in which you teach or provide learning support. What do you teach, who are your students and what do they learn from you? How does your approach to teaching and learning align with a Kaupapa Māori philosophical approach to teaching and learning?

2. Ko te Whakaako – Educational practice

Describe your teaching practice and explain the ways in which this practice is influenced by Kaupapa Māori principles. Describe the ways in which you incorporate and/or actively promote te reo Māori, tikanga Māori, and mātauranga Māori into your practice, and how this enhances learning and develops student capabilities in your subject area and wider (if applicable). Highlight how your practice is student-centred, how through using Kaupapa Māori principles you have empowered students to take leadership in their learning.

3. Ko te Mātauranga – Knowledge and impact

Provide evidence of the impact the incorporation of te reo Māori, tikanga Māori, and mātauranga Māori has had on your students, others (where applicable), and in your subject area. What is the impact of your Kaupapa Māori teaching on your students, their families, communities and employers? How does this lead to student success? How do you know that your students have learned and can apply that learning effectively? How do you know that the learning outcomes meet the students' needs, and those of other stakeholders' (e.g., whanau, employers, professional bodies, the wider community)?

4. Evaluation and Feedback - Mātaki | Taunaki – Evaluation of Excellence in Teaching and Learning

Explain how you have evaluated, improved and developed your Kaupapa Māori approach to teaching or support of student learning. Describe any innovative change(s) that you have made, the reason for the change(s) and provide evidence of the effect(s) they have had on your students.

5. Ko te Rangatiratanga – Leadership

Describe how your Kaupapa Māori-led practice has demonstrated rangatiratanga/leadership in improving outcomes for learners, how it has impacted on your discipline, and how it has advanced te reo Māori, tikanga Māori, and mātauranga Māori. Describe the ways in which your Kaupapa Māori-led practice has contributed to and influenced the field of teaching and learning. Highlight the ways in which your Kaupapa Māori-led practice has influenced and developed the capabilities of others, including colleagues, your wider institution, and others on either a national or international level. Provide evidence of the impact your leadership in Kaupapa Māori-led teaching has had.

6. Ko te Awenga – Influence

Describe the ways in which your practice develops connections with communities outside of your classroom and the significance of these connections. This may include other areas of your institution, local, national or international indigenous communities, employers, industry, public service groups, and/or professional groups. Highlight the ways in which your practice has enhanced whānau, hapū, iwi, and/or hapori Māori education aspirations, and the impact it has had for these groups. Provide evidence of the impact your Kaupapa Māori-led practice has had on others outside of your classroom.

Further information on criteria can be found on pages 7 - 12 of this document:

13. An up-to-date Otago Teaching Profile (for academic staff only) (<https://www.otago.ac.nz/hedc/evaluate/profile/index.html>). Evidence of student feedback about teaching must be provided with the Teaching Profile. This should typically include 3 years of summaries of evaluation questionnaires about teachers or courses in the standard format. Do NOT include any supporting documents, appendices, emails or the original questionnaire forms filled in by students. If this additional material would support your case for sustained excellence in teaching, then summarise it or refer to it in your 2,000-word statement or your Teaching Profile.
14. For non-academic staff: Instead of an Otago teaching profile, non-academic staff applicants should, if available, provide course evaluation questionnaires for the last 3 years, or some other formal student feedback, like a questionnaire, and their award statement (item 11) can be 3,000 words. Do NOT include any supporting documents, appendices, emails or the original questionnaire forms filled in by students. If this additional material would support your case for sustained excellence in teaching, then summarise it or refer to it in your 3,000-word statement.
15. Team applications should generally follow the above format in the same order, but with the following differences. Items 1-6 should be provided for each team member. Items 7-12, 16 and 18 should be for the team as a whole. Item 13, the Otago Teaching Profile need not be provided for a team application. Instead, a team application should provide course evaluation questionnaires (or, if the team consists of non-academic staff, some other formal student feedback, like a questionnaire), for the last 3 years if they are available, and their award statement (item 12) can be 3,000 words. For item 17, each team member should include a short version of their own CV that focuses on their teaching, and no more than 3 pages each. In the 3,000-word statement for a team application (item 12), make sure you include illustrative details about both what the teachers do, and how students learn. For example, you might give an explicit example of what one team member does when they teach to illustrate your team approach. You should include what the teacher says and does, while also giving concrete examples of what students say and do, to show the reader what it would be like to be taught by the team. The team-teaching statement should not just be an abstract statement of what the team does but must include concrete details of what we would see and hear if we were students taught by the team and concrete details of what individual team members do.

16. Three letters of support (and no more) from colleagues, students, or others. These letters should support your case for sustained excellence in teaching, and might explicitly address some or all of the criteria. Letters should generally be no longer than a single page and should be presented as a letter or statement, not necessarily formal, rather than as an email. Although you can only include three letters, it is useful to ask for six or more, then include the three strongest, and use selected quotes from the other letters to back up your claims in your 2,000 or 3000-word statement or Otago Teaching Profile.
17. An up-to-date curriculum vitae in the University of Otago format.
18. Names, email addresses and contact phone numbers of up to three current members of staff of the University of Otago, usually including the applicant's HoD, whom the selection panel could consult about teaching excellence. Those who are named must be contactable by email or phone for 2 weeks from the 7th February. These can be the same people who write letters of support.
19. Successful applicants for an Otago Award will be notified by the second week of March. If they are also selected to submit for the National awards in the same year, they will need to prepare the equivalent of a 4,500-word portfolio (which might include audio/visual material), to be submitted by June to Ako Aotearoa. The University provides peer-support for nominees preparing a portfolio for the National Awards.
20. Applicants, who have submitted unsuccessfully for a National Award and wish to be nominated again for a National Award, should submit their previous National Award portfolio plus a one-page statement that justifies their re-application for a National Award. They should also supply whatever feedback they received from Ako Aotearoa (if any). In the one-page statement they should write about how they will improve their portfolio, including how they will write it in a more convincing manner and/or what is new or further developed in their teaching since their last application for a National Award. Please NOTE that if selected for re-submission for a National Award, it will be considered for the 2024 or 2025 round. Please also NOTE that you can only submit a National Award twice (unless there are exceptional circumstances).

If you have questions about the application process or want guidance for writing an application, please contact Associate Professor Ben Daniel or Professor Clinton Golding, from HEDC.
