General sporting archives

Most of our sporting archives relate to specific sports – see below for further details. Some more general organisations for whom we hold archives are Sports Medicine New Zealand Inc. [AG-916] and the Otago Primary Schools' Sports Association [96-205]. The archives of the Caledonian Society of Otago [ARC-0466] include material relating to their sports gatherings. There is also considerable material relating to sports (particularly photographs of sports teams) in our school records (we hold the archives of most state and some Catholic schools in Otago). See Hākena, the pictures, photographs, ephemera, archives and manuscripts catalogue, for details.

Olympic and Commonwealth Games

We have the archives of the 4th British Commonwealth Paraplegic Games, held in Dunedin in 1974 [98-010], though these are water damaged. There is other material relating to these games in the N.R. Jefferson papers [MS-1479].

We also have various publications relating to Olympic and Commonwealth Games. These include periodicals published by the New Zealand Olympic and Commonwealth Games Association, which became the New Zealand Olympic Committee in the mid-1990s. Try a search on Library Search|Ketu under the heading Olympics – Periodicals. We also have their annual reports from 1994 onwards.

For publications relating to specific games (for example, the New Zealand Olympics Committee's publications profiling New Zealand team members), try a subject search for that specific meeting, for example,

- Olympic Games (27th: 2000: Sydney, N.S.W.)
- Commonwealth Games (16th: 1998: Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia)

We have a number of books concerning the history of the games, and biographies of athletes, for example,

Joseph Romanos (2008). Our Olympic century. Wellington: Trio Books.

Margot Butcher (2010). Golden girls: celebrating New Zealand's six female Olympic gold medallists. Auckland: HarperSports.

John Clark (1998). Athletes at the games: New Zealand track & field medal winners at the Olympic and Commonwealth Games. Wellington: Athletics New Zealand.

Many of the best known Olympic and Commonwealth Games athletes are also the subject of individual biographies or autobiographies – try a search using the name of the athlete. If you cannot locate a book about a particular person, try searching for a magazine or newspaper article using an article database, such as Index New Zealand <https://goo.gl/pPJ8da>. For links to a wide variety of relevant databases, see the University of Otago Library Subject Guide for Physical Education, Sport & Exercise Sciences https://otago.libguides.com/physical_education.

The Friends of the Hocken Collections Bulletin 34, Sydney or the bush? (published 2000), includes further suggestions of material relating to the Olympics in our collections. This is available at https://www.otago.ac.nz/library/pdf/hoc_fr_bulletins/34_bulletin.pdf.
