INTRODUCTION

The list of abbreviations includes what is intended to be a comprehensive coverage of Australian and New Zealand legal abbreviations. It began as a preliminary list in June 1979 (No. 32 ALLG Newsletter), was revised in July 1982 (No 50 ALLG Newsletter), was separately published in 1986, and appeared with the present title in 1988. This edition represents almost a hundred per cent increase in entries to the previous edition. Incorporated in the list are non-Australian and New Zealand law journals which regularly carry Australian and New Zealand content and/or have Australians or New Zealanders serving on their editorial/advisory boards or as correspondents. As well, a selected number of non-law periodicals which feature articles of relevance to legal practice in Australia and New Zealand on a regular basis are included.

The work supplements such publications as Raistrick, D. Index to legal citations and abbreviations, 2nd ed, 1993; Bieber, DM Dictionary of legal abbreviations used in American law books, 4th ed, 1993. This work should prove useful for reference work and also for identifying items on publishers' invoices and union lists. Of particular interest are the small but increasing references to electronic publications.

In most cases, the publishers' preferred abbreviations are used. In a small number of instances, where standard abbreviations are not available, the compilers took the liberty of inventing them. However, there are now many newsletters and other serials which have no recognised abbreviations. In some cases, more than one abbreviation is used. Ours is not to reason why some non-standard abbreviations are used eg. Austl LJ by the Index to Legal Periodicals. Spaces have been created between entries to allow for insertions. The majority of entries are of Australian origin. Where there is ambiguity, New Zealand is indicated in parentheses.

The following is the accepted form of citation for unreported judgments, which are now heavily used in all kinds of legal work and study. The generally accepted form (which enables one to order the judgment from the court registries) is:

names of parties/court name/ registry/registry filing number/
date of judgment/judge.

An example would be:

Fong v Edwards High Court, Dunedin, M320/87, 25 November 1987
Wiglet J.

This work was partly updated via regular correspondence on the Internet. We wish to acknowledge assistance from many librarians in particular Jackie Patrick and law publishers in the preparation of this publication. Thanks to Deirdre Sutherland and Maureen Yum of Allen Allen and Hemsley for "keying" in the text, and to the University of Otago for assistance with Alan Edwards' contribution.

As to the next edition, we hope to publish this in the year 2000 when Sydney hosts the Summer Olympics and New Zealand defends the America's Cup. However a 3rd edition print version may not eventuate if this work becomes available electronically in the near future. Watch this space!

COLOUR SUPPLEMENT IN BLACK AND WHITE

Some local and overseas law books are colloquially named by the colour of the binding. No attempt is made to be comprehensive and the following are but a few examples.

- Black binder:                   Probably a CCH looseleaf service
- Black statutes:                NSW reprinted statutes and sessional acts in black binders, likewise for WA
- Blue book:                    The blue book - A uniform system of citation, 15ed, Cambridge, Mass, Harvard Law Review Association, 1991
- Blue book:                    Australia. Dept of Treasury. Australia's foreign investment policy - a guide for investors, Canberra, AGPS, 1992. The name may not survive the next edition
- Blue book:                    The Blue Book: The Directory of the Law Society of Scotland, Edinburgh, Butterworths (Annual)
- Blue book:                    Legal Profession Disciplinary Reports, published as a supplement to Law Society Journal, since 1990
- Red book:                     The various Butterworths procedure looseleaf services ie Ritchie (NSW); Williams (Vic); Ryan (Qld); Lunn (SA); Seaman (WA); Refshauge (ACT)
Source: (1995) 69 ALJ 417
- Maroon book:                 The University of Chicago Manual of legal citation, Lawyer's Co-Operative Publishing Co/Bancroft-Whitney Co/Mead Data Central, Inc, 1989

AUSTRALIAN AND NEW ZEALAND
LEGAL ABBREVIATIONS
SECOND EDITION

From the Introduction:

It evolved as a preliminary list in June 1979 (No 32 ALLG Newsletter) and revised in July 1982 (No 50 ALLG Newsletter) then as a separate publication in 1986. Also incorporated in the list are non-Australian and New Zealand law journals which regularly carry Australian and New Zealand content and/or have Australians or New Zealanders serving on their editorial / advisory boards or as correspondents. The last point explains why JBL and MLR are in whilst LQR is out, though they are all of UK origin. As well, a selected number of non-law periodicals which feature on a regular basis articles of relevance to legal practice in Australia and New Zealand are included."

This publication was compiled by Colin Fong, Research Librarian with Allen Allen & Hemsley and Alan Edwards, the Law Librarian with the University of Otago, Dunedin, New Zealand.

Cost: $25.00 (including postage).

$20.00 for four or more copies (including postage); overseas airmail extra.
