Export Invoice

An Export Invoice must be attached for all items, other than documents, sent by Express International OR sent as a commercial transaction. This is a compulsory Customs requirement. Failure to comply may result in a delay, seizure or refusal of your package by Customs officials.

If you are a business customer, use the Export Invoice Template (provided by New Zealand Post) to complete the information and print the Export Invoice on your company letterhead.

To complete the Export Invoice please provide the following information:

1. Full name, address and phone/ fax number of the addressee.
2. Complete the consignment note number (Airway Bill number for official use only).
3. Total weight of the package.
4. Customs client code recommended for all items over NZ$1000.
5. A detailed description of each item contained in your package (including numbers or markings e.g. serial markings on machines). If you are sending a video tape state the title and contents.
6. If known, the harmonised tariff code(s) of the contents (eight digits).
7. The country of manufacture of each item in your package.
8. The number of items in your package.
9. The value of each item in your package (zero values and NCV are not permitted).
10. The total value of your package (zero values and NCV are not permitted)
11. Exporter declaration - only required for packages sent to Australia by manufacturers and exporters.
12. Full name, address, and phone/ fax number of the sender.
13. Sender declaration - please state the reason for export of your package (gift, merchandise, product sample).
14. Your signature and the date.

Note: New Zealand Post cannot carry certain IATA classified dangerous goods.

Retain a copy of the Export Invoice for your records.

Place the completed Export Invoice behind the consignment note in the adhesive plastic pouch provided by New Zealand Post.
