Declaration

1. I acknowledge that any person who consults my thesis, in hardcopy or electronic form, may use it in accordance with the provisions for 'fair dealing' set out in Sections 42 and 43 of the New Zealand Copyright Act. This includes:
 - a) Making reasonable quotation from it, provided that proper acknowledgement is made, for the purposes of criticism, review or news reporting; and
 - b) Making a single copy of a reasonable portion of it for the purposes of research or private study.
2. I grant the University of Otago permission to store my work and make it available, in accordance with the level of access selected above, subject to any restriction.
3. To the best of my knowledge and belief the work does not infringe the copyright of any other person.

Regardless of the access that any person may have to your thesis, you retain copyright in your thesis, as outlined in the University of Otago 'Intellectual Property Rights of Graduate Research Students' (IPRGRS) Policy. Note that there are exceptions where, for example, your work was externally funded and restrictions were agreed on the dissemination of certain information (see IPRGRS Policy section 7). If you have any doubts discuss this with your supervisor.
