The 1918 Influenza Pandemic and its lessons

It was the most devastating global health disaster in modern history.
8600 lives lost in NZ in a matter of months.
100 years on...what have we learnt? What can we expect in the future?

Register now for this historic symposium on 7 February 2018 in Wellington

Hear international and NZ experts detail the 1918 pandemic and explore the implications for modern pandemic planning. Course materials include a free copy of Geoffrey Rice's new book 'Black Flu 1918'.
